

Collective Insight Round Table Discussion

18 February 2019

Every quarter, South African magazine finweek publishes the Collective Insight supplement, focusing on an aspect of the investment field. Over the years, Credo has contributed a number of articles to this publication.

The topic of the edition for the first quarter of 2019 is "Getting to Grips with Going Global" and we are proud to announce that a piece by Ainsley To (who is responsible for Credo's Multi-Asset Portfolios) has once again been included.

To extend this conversation to a broader audience, the CFA Society South Africa and ABSIP (Association of Black Securities and Investment Professionals) are collaborating with finweek in arranging a round table discussion on the topic of global investing, and Ainsley will be presenting his thoughts and insights (as encapsulated in his article) as part of this. He will be joined in this discussion by a number of senior South African investment professionals and thought leaders.

The session will be jointly moderated by Anne Cabot-Alletzhauser (Head of the Alexander Forbes Research Institute and Editor of this edition of Collective Insight) and Nerina Visser (Director & Co-owner at etfSA Portfolio Management Company and President of the CFA Society South Africa).

You are invited to join the audience in either Johannesburg or Cape Town on the 18th of February at 17h00 for 17h30. Please click on the applicable button below to register your interest.

There will be a videolink between the two venues to make for seamless interaction across geographies.

CFA Society
South Africa

finweek

Cape Town

18 February 2019

Flagship | Portside

17h00 for 17h30

Register

Johannesburg

18 February 2019

Alexander Forbes | Sandton

17h00 for 17h30

Register

Event Agenda:

17h00: Registration & Snacks

17h30: Welcome

17h35: Discussion

19h00: Closing

19h05: Networking

CREDO

